

Advancing through Engagement 2011

Letter from the Speaker

March 2013

To the Members of the Legislative Assembly of Alberta:

I am pleased to present the 28th Annual Report of the Legislative Assembly Office (LAO). In addition to documenting the financial statements for the fiscal year ending March 31, 2011, this report highlights the activities and initiatives undertaken by the LAO during the 2011 calendar year in support of the Legislative Assembly of Alberta. Also found within its pages is the 2011 Annual Report of the Alberta Branch of the Canadian Parliamentary Association.

While my distinguished colleague the Honourable Ken Kowalski presided as Speaker of the Legislative Assembly and thus oversaw the operations of the LAO for the reporting period, at the time this report was published, I had stepped into the role. I am honoured to follow in his footsteps, and it is my pleasure to make this report available to you in my role as 12th Speaker of the Legislative Assembly of Alberta.

Honourable Gene Zwozdesky
MLA, Edmonton-Mill Creek

Mission, Vision and Values

Our Mission

To provide nonpartisan parliamentary support to the Speaker and Members of the Legislative Assembly as they carry out their roles as elected representatives.

Our Vision

Respect – Tradition
Exemplify – Service
Promote – Innovation

Our Values

Impartiality – Integrity – Improvement

Employees of the Legislative Assembly Office (LAO) are proud to provide services to the Legislative Assembly on behalf of the citizens of Alberta. We are guided in our work and conduct by a core set of principles that motivate us as individuals and reflect the qualities of the office as a whole.

“ While the LAO embraces tradition and is mindful of the Legislative Assembly’s past, we are squarely focused on advancing our services and exploring new ways to engage Albertans today and in the future. ”

W.J. David McNeil, Clerk of the Legislative Assembly

Advancing through engagement

Before we can inspire, we must first engage.

It isn't enough to just disseminate information. If you truly want to make an impression on your audience or inspire them to action, you must first engage them in the process. I am of course speaking of the legislative process in Alberta.

In addition to supporting the Speaker and MLAs in their roles as elected officials, the LAO is mandated to inform and educate the public on behalf of Members and the institution of parliament. In fulfilling this goal, we look for interactive approaches. Participation is key to any democratic system, and our philosophy is based on maximizing participation in the legislative process. Whether through committee activity or visitor programming, we strive to inspire active citizenship and empower Albertans to become educated about politics and parliament at the provincial level.

Turning the focus inward, the same can be said for our approach to our internal audiences, primarily our Members and their staff. At the LAO improving our processes to better enable Members to be accessible and accountable to their constituents, the citizens of Alberta, is priority one.

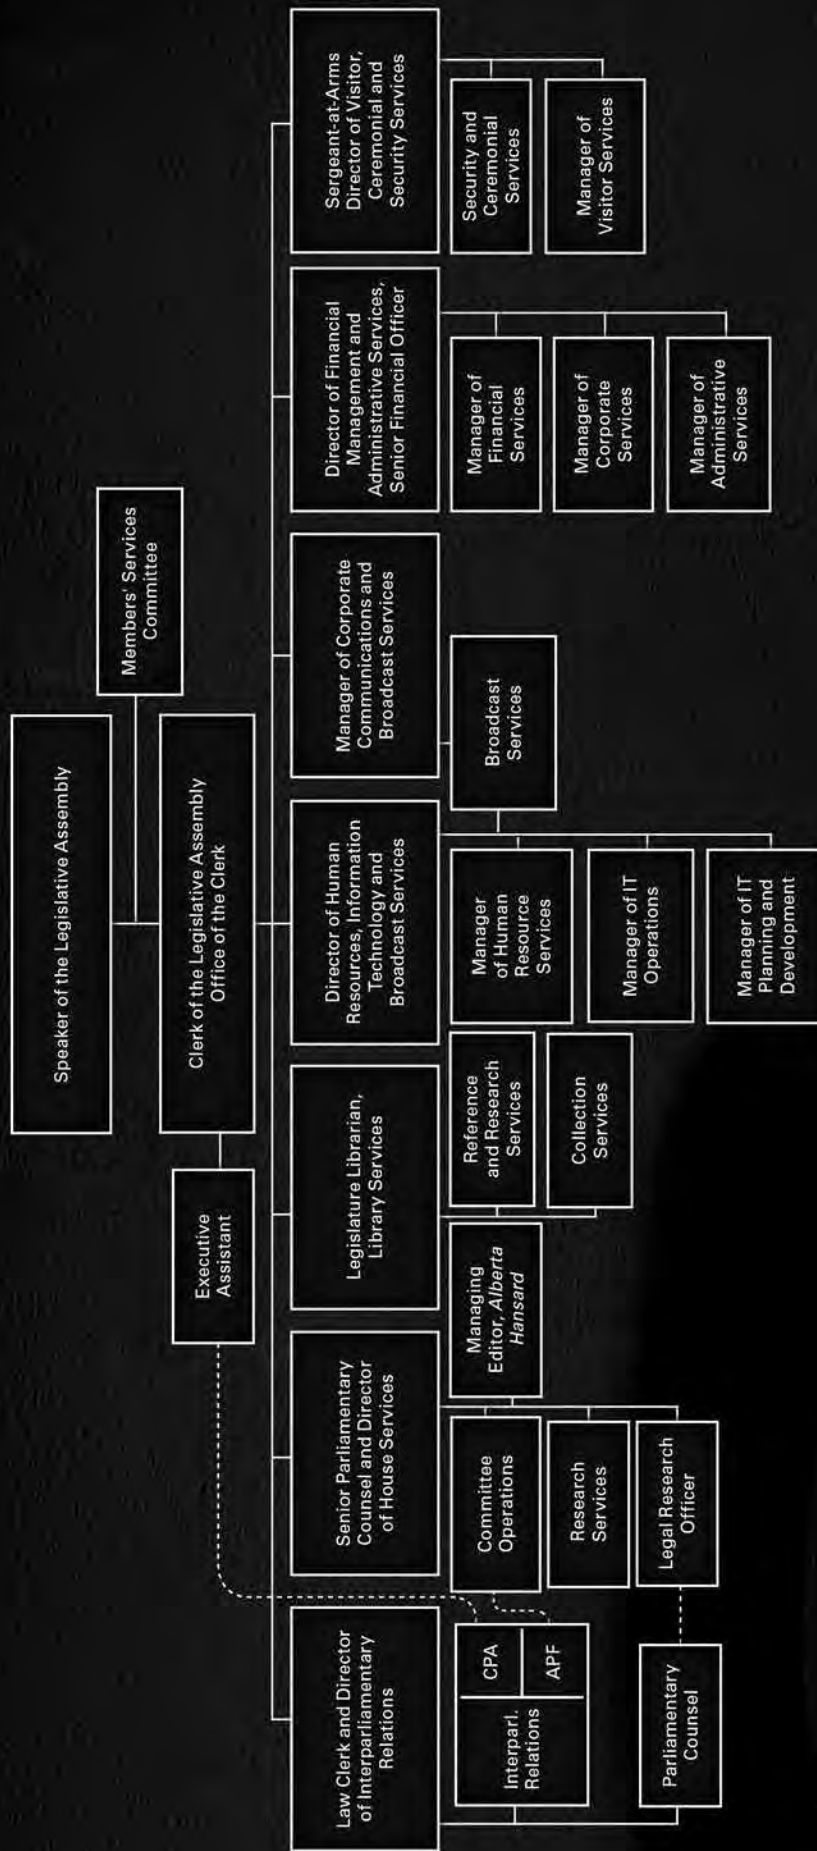

Dr. David McNeil
Clerk of the Legislative Assembly of Alberta

Our History

Established in 1983, the origins of Alberta's Legislative Assembly Office can be traced back to 14th-century England, when Parliament elected the first Speaker and appointed the first Clerk. The Legislative Assembly Office works hard to uphold and abide by parliamentary tradition while at the same time ensuring our operations are run in a nonpartisan manner and respond to the needs of the Members we serve.

It may come as a surprise to some, but the Legislative Assembly Office is not a government department. The government is the executive branch, responsible for applying and enforcing laws, and the Legislative Assembly is responsible for establishing those laws. We are a separate and unique entity from government with the passion and commitment to provide all Members of the Legislative Assembly, regardless of party affiliation, with the support they need to represent and serve their constituents.

External Engagement: focusing on accessibility and participation

“An important aspect of the legislative process, the committee process allows for in-depth debate on complex issues and the opportunity for issues to become more accessible to Albertans.”

Shannon Dean, Senior Parliamentary Counsel and Director of House Services

Legislative Committees Focus on Maximizing Public Participation

The hallmark of any successful democratic society is public engagement in the legislative process, and by engagement we are referring to more than simply voting in a general provincial election once every four years. A high level of public engagement promotes transparency and ensures that legislation reflects the needs of the public it is meant to serve. So how do the citizens of Alberta become engaged in the system? One way is through committee activity. Committees allow consideration of legislative matters to take place outside of the House for in-depth review and discussion, which often includes the opportunity for public consultation. Through committees, MLAs and the issues before the Legislature become more accessible to everyday Albertans.

A great example of public engagement, the Standing Committee on the Alberta Heritage Savings Trust Fund (AHSTF) has made huge strides in the past three years to expand the reach of its annual public meeting and encourage greater public participation and interaction with the committee.

An all-party committee of the Legislative Assembly, the AHSTF Committee is tasked with reviewing and approving the heritage fund's performance, business plan and financial reports; holding public meetings with Albertans to report on investment activities and results; and reporting to the Legislative Assembly on whether the mission of the fund is being fulfilled.

The committee made history in 2010 when it became the first committee of the Legislative Assembly of Alberta to televise a public meeting. The meeting was broadcast province-wide on Shaw TV and streamed on the Assembly website. This approach was born out of a desire to expand the reach of the meeting beyond the four walls of the town halls, theatres and conference rooms that had been the mainstay of the committee over the past 30 years.

This approach took the committee reach, which at its peak in 2007 amassed about 70 audience members, to more than 6,000. Building on this success, in 2011 the committee endeavored to also increase interaction between the committee and the public during the meeting. After all, the mark of any good democracy is participation. To accomplish this, the committee decided to incorporate online chat into the mix. Here's how it worked. During the Q and A portion of the meeting the committee responded to not only comments and questions from those in the room but also those posted online.

In the end the chat proved a dynamic addition to the meeting, which reached about 5,000 viewers through the TV broadcast and 43 through the webstream, which was more than double the live audience of just over 20. Of the online audience, eight people participated in the chat, which generated over 40 comments and/or questions for committee discussion as compared with the nine questions posed by the in-house audience. The chat provided not only a line of communication between the committee and the online viewers, but it also allowed for the online audience to interact with the live audience as well via the committee. It was a true demonstration of the democratic process, and LAO staff were proud to be involved in facilitating the conversation.

All Legislature committees are supported by the LAO. Administrative services, technical assistance, research services, legal advice, Hansard services and communications services are provided. The branches of the LAO work together to ensure the needs of each committee are met and that Members are able to reach out to Albertans to gain public insight on issues before the committee, thereby supporting their respective mandates.

“Opening up the committee proceedings to include broadcast and video stream capabilities will ultimately allow us to reach more Albertans. This is a very exciting prospect. We look forward to offering citizens greater access to the work of their elected officials.”

Rhonda Sorensen,
Manager of Corporate Communications and Broadcast Services

New Committee Rooms Will Improve Accessibility

Planning and preparations continued in 2011 for the LAO's eventual move from the Legislature Annex to the Federal Public Building. One of the more exciting aspects of the new site is the new committee rooms. The LAO will soon be equipped with conference rooms to facilitate broadcast and video streaming of its own public meetings.

The second floor of the Federal Public Building will offer four committee rooms equipped with state-of-the-art technology that will ultimately increase accessibility. The committee rooms will feature audio and video systems that will allow meetings to be broadcast and streamed online. The current committee rooms are only capable of capturing audio.

“Over the last couple of years a great deal of planning has been dedicated to the design of the new committee rooms that will support Members once the renovated Federal Public Building is ready to serve as the LAO's new home,” said Val Rutherford, Manager of Planning and Development, ITS.

New Visitor Centre Will Engage Public in Alberta's Legislative System

“The new building provides us with the opportunity to re-evaluate the needs of our various audiences and develop new initiatives,” explained Diane Brayman, Manager of Visitor Services. “We want to create inviting and engaging spaces that feature Alberta's legislative history and culture.”

“The renovated federal public building will allow us to build infrastructure that furthers our commitment to public engagement.”

Scott Ellis
Director and Senior
Financial Officer,
Financial Management and Administrative Services

The Federal Public Building is located on the northeast corner of the Legislature Grounds. This 1950s art deco-style building will soon be fully renovated and replace the Legislature Annex as the new home for many Members of the Legislative Assembly and staff of the LAO.

A feature of the new space will be the highly anticipated visitor centre, sure to engage Albertans in the legislative process. Through interactive exhibits, games and other activities visitors will delve into the legislative process and gain insight into the political history of Alberta. Visitors will explore themes relating to Alberta's political culture, democratic heritage and citizenship, but don't mistake this experience for one of those history lessons of old; no, the visitor centre will be over 3,000 square feet of state-of-the-art public engagement.

The space will offer an 80-seat indoor theatre to accommodate students' learning needs and serve as a flexible venue for countless activities. This aptly named theatre in the round will offer a large, versatile space that can easily be reconfigured to support a wide range of uses, including audiovisual presentations and public meetings.

Considerable thought and care also went into the design of the LAO's new temporary exhibition space. With its museum-quality climate-controlled environment, the LAO will be able to host travelling exhibits from across Alberta and further afield.

“To every extent possible our gift shop offers products that are made by Albertans. The merchandise showcases the literary talent, artistic creativity, excellent craftsmanship and ingenuity that reside in our province.”

Brian Hodgson,
Sergeant-at-Arms and Director of Visitor, Ceremonial
and Security Services

The Legislative Assembly gift shop will relocate from the pedway to the Federal Public Building's ground floor as well. In addition to featuring double the retail space as the current store, the new gift shop will offer an expanded range of products, many made in Alberta.

With an ultimate goal of integrating the newly renovated Capital Boulevard (north of the Legislature on 108th Street) with the existing Legislature Grounds, the area will gradually shift elevation to subtly transition from the boulevard to the Legislature Grounds, making the grounds more accessible and welcoming to downtown foot traffic.

Internal Engagement: supporting Members through technology

5% increase in support for Mobile devices.

“The LAO keeps a keen eye on trends in the technology industry and service sectors in order to best serve our Members.”

Cheryl Scarlett,
Director of Human Resources,
Information Technology
& Broadcast Services

Information technology is ever-changing and the latest tools come in high-demand by our clients. Strong forecasting mechanisms are in place to effectively support our technology infrastructure upgrades and enable the LAO to provide seamless IT services.

Improved information management and greater access to Assembly data

The LAO made a number of improvements – some sizeable, others incremental – to the way in which digital information was gathered, managed, used, shared and preserved in 2011. These changes resulted in greater accessibility and transparency, improved user experiences and more efficient and effective information management.

While Information Technology Services (ITS), Library Services and Broadcast Services spearheaded these efforts, it was a team effort that stretched across the entire organization.

Significant headway was made in 2011 in the development of an information management strategy. The goal was to capture Member and procedural data so that it can be used for other purposes and as an information/data source. The LAO developed the following databases:

- Members' Historical Online Biographies (MHOB) – A comprehensive database and application that captures current and former members' information.
- Aladdin – This project, which is very large in scope, deals with procedural data relating to both House and committee activities.

Further to this initiative, the LAO also established a strategy for preserving the audio and video records of the Assembly, be it broadcast or webstream of House and Committee activities or special events. This project is expected to expand over time as more and more Legislative Assembly-related activities are recorded and demand for audio and video grows.

Increased support for mobile communications devices

The LAO also provided increased support for mobile devices in 2011. In response to the LAO's workforce becoming more mobile and collaboration tools becoming more sophisticated, ITS expanded access to devices, software and support to make working remotely easier. This included deploying more laptops, mobile devices, secure connectivity options and collaboration tools such as Lync with integrated audio/video conferencing. Further to this, a change of protocol permitted Members to use tablets in an offline mode during Oral Question Period as a paperless option for speaking notes.

Better search capabilities

Increased search capabilities introduced in 2011 made keeping up with the issues of the day for Members and their staff markedly easier. The Speaker launched the Association of Parliamentary Libraries in Canada (APLIC) portal on the Assembly's intranet in April 2011 at the Library's open house. Library Services has been working for the past three years on a pilot project through APLIC to develop a one-stop searching portal for full-text electronic resources emanating from Canadian jurisdictions. While it is constantly being refined and enhanced, the APLIC portal allows users to search more than 100,000 full-text government and legislative publications from 10 different Canadian jurisdictions.

19% increase in electronic books available to Members.

tions at once through keyword searches, making comparing and contrasting policies and initiatives much easier.

Content from the parliamentary libraries of Alberta, British Columbia, Manitoba, New Brunswick, Newfoundland and Labrador, Northwest Territories, Nova Scotia, Ontario, Quebec and Saskatchewan is currently available through the APLIC portal. All electronically archived Alberta government documents in the collection are accessible through the portal as well as through the library's catalogue. Alberta was the first jurisdiction to make the portal available to its Members.

The LAO also implemented a mechanism called a link resolver to allow enhanced linkages between databases. LinkSource is an underlying tool that allows users to connect seamlessly from the citations in one database to the full text in another. The link resolver increases the likelihood of accessing the complete document in fewer clicks of the mouse, thereby decreasing search time and improving the users' online research experience.

Building on the distribution of library cards in 2010, Library Services introduced another convenience for Members and their staff when it enabled remote access to subscription databases. With the assistance of ITS, Members and their staff can connect

“ The LAO is committed to providing Members with quick and easy access to the Legislative Assembly Library's collections no matter where they are and when they want it.”

Valerie Footz, Legislature Librarian,
Library Services

to databases from any computer at any time. Databases are accessed through the library catalogue, and users simply enter their library card number along with their password. No network connection is required as authentication is done through software called EZproxy.

Supporting technology through staff advancement

Supporting staff learning strengthens our abilities to provide proper supports to the MLAs. Over 118 external training opportunities were co-ordinated for the LAO in 2011. Caucus, constituency and LAO staff also attended internal sessions that added to their competencies, including workshops and webinars on the latest information technology tools.

Keeping abreast of learning trends and best practices enables the LAO to maintain its reputation for providing excellent support to our clients. We are committed to providing staff with ongoing learning and development opportunities that build on our current capabilities and structures, collectively resulting in excellent service to our ultimate clients, the Members of the Legislative Assembly.

Events

Carillon Inauguration

On February 22, 2011, a ceremony was held in the Legislature’s carillon room to welcome the return of a carillon to the Legislature Building. The ceremony marked the first time since 1996 that the peal of bells would ring out through the building and grounds. The installation of the new carillon was just the first in a series of projects planned for the 100th anniversary celebration of the Legislature in 2012. The original carillon was installed in 1967 to mark Canada’s centennial. The new carillon showcases all the distinctive sounds of the original but with state-of-the-art technology.

Mr. Speaker’s MLA for a Day

On May 9 and 10 high school students from across the province became representatives in the Legislature through participation in Mr. Speaker’s MLA for a Day program. The program is designed to give students an opportunity to see what it means to be an MLA by participating in Chamber debates, touring the Legislature and spending time with MLAs as they go about their daily business. Mr. Speaker’s MLA for a Day program is supported by the Royal Canadian Legion, Alberta-NWT Command.

To the Speaker of the Legislative Assembly

Report on the Financial Statements

I have audited the accompanying financial statements of the Legislative Assembly Office, which comprise the statement of financial position as at March 31, 2011, and the statements of operations, changes in net assets and cash flows for the year then ended, and a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with Canadian public sector accounting standards, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

My responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on my audit. I conducted my audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that I comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

I believe that the audit evidence I have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for my audit opinion.

Opinion

In my opinion, the financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Legislative Assembly Office as at March 31, 2011, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with Canadian public sector accounting standards.

Notes to the Financial Statements

Year ended March 31, 2011

Note 1 Authority

The Legislative Assembly Office (the "Office") is operated under the authority of the Legislative Assembly Act. Annual operating budgets are approved by the Special Standing Committee on Members' Services.

Note 2 Purpose

Within the traditions of parliamentary democracy as constitutionally established in Alberta, the Legislative Assembly Office will:

1. Support the Speaker of the Legislative Assembly in carrying out the duties of office.
2. Support Members by providing services, advice, information and infrastructure required to carry out their roles as elected representatives.
3. Record the proceedings and maintain and preserve the records of the Legislative Assembly.
4. Inform and educate the public on behalf of Members and the institution of Parliament.
5. Provide a positive, productive, healthy and secure environment for Members and staff of the Assembly.
6. Support the Assembly in protecting its institutions and privileges.
7. Support the exchange of ideas/information among parliaments.
8. Build partnerships with external clients in support of the institution of parliament.

Note 3 Summary of Significant Accounting Policies and Reporting Practices

These financial statements are prepared in accordance with Canadian public sector accounting standards.

a) Reporting Entity

The reporting entity is the Legislative Assembly Office, for which the Clerk of the Legislative Assembly is responsible.

The Office operates within the General Revenue Fund (the "Fund"). The Fund is administrated by the Minister of Finance and Enterprise. All receipts of the Office are deposited into the Fund and all disbursements made by the Office are paid from the Fund. The net transfer from the Fund is the difference between all cash receipts and all cash disbursements made.

b) Basis of Financial Reporting

Revenues

All revenues are reported on the accrual basis of accounting.

Expenses

Expenses represent the costs of resources consumed during the year in the Office's operations.

Valuation Adjustments

Valuation adjustments include changes in the valuation allowances used to reflect assets at their net recoverable or other appropriate value. Valuation adjustments also represent the change in management's estimate of future payments arising from obligations relating to vacation pay and transition allowance.

Assets

Financial assets of the Office are limited to financial claims such as cash, advances to and accounts receivable from other organizations, employees and other individuals.

Inventory held for resale is reported at the lower of cost and net realizable value.

Tangible capital assets of the Office are recorded at cost and amortized on a straight-line basis over the estimated useful lives of the assets. An asset is deemed a capital item if its invoiced cost is $5,000 (or greater) per item or if an assembly of connected components makes a whole asset (inclusive of labour, shipping, consulting, et cetera). The amortization periods are as follows:

Computer hardware and software	3 years
Other equipment	5 years
Furniture	10 years

The Office follows government budgetary practices that allow funds from an operating budget to be used to purchase tangible capital assets. These purchases are included in expenses on the statement of operations, but are then removed from expenses through a valuation adjustment and are capitalized and amortized over their useful lives.

The fair value of cash and accounts receivable and advances are estimated to approximate their carrying values.

Liabilities

Liabilities include all financial claims payable by the Office at fiscal year end.

The Members' transition allowance is estimated based on Members' years of service and their most recent remuneration amounts. The annual charge is the amount that is estimated to have been earned by Members during the year.

The fair values of accounts payable and accrued liabilities and Members' transition allowance are estimated to approximate their carrying values.

Net Assets

Net assets represent the difference between the value of assets held by the Office and its liabilities.

Note 5 Expenses Incurred by Alberta Infrastructure (in thousands)

The Office had the following transaction with Alberta Infrastructure for which no consideration was exchanged. The amount for this transaction is estimated based on the actual costs incurred by Alberta Infrastructure to provide the service. The estimated cost for the service is $3,155 (2010 – $733).

Note 6 Members' Transition Allowance Liability (in thousands)

The Office implemented a Members' transition allowance on October 1, 1998. The provisions of the allowance were established in accordance with the Members' Allowances Order (RMSC 1992, c. M-1, as amended, Section 9).

A transition allowance is paid to every Member at the time of dissolution of the Legislature unless they are re-elected in the next election. Members who resign their seats are also eligible for the allowance.

Under section 9 the amount paid for service commencing on or after March 20, 1989, is determined by multiplying three months' salary, based on the average monthly salary for the three calendar years in which the person received their highest salary, by the number of years the person served as a Member on or after March 20, 1989. "Salary" is defined in section 9(1). For service periods prior to March 20, 1989, the allowance is calculated by multiplying the highest rate of a Member's monthly indemnity and expense allowances for one month for every year of service prior to March 20, 1989, with no restrictions. There is no credit for years of service for which the Member has previously received a payment under section 9 or the predecessor section. Eligible recipients may elect to be paid the allowance over a period of up to four years.

In the event of death of an active Member a transition allowance equivalent to the amount owed at passing is paid to the Member's estate.

Note 7 Defined Benefit Plans (in thousands)

The Office participates in the following multi-employer pension plans: Management Employees Pension Plan and Public Service Pension Plan. The Office also participates in the multi-employer Supplementary Retirement Plan for Public Service Managers. The expense for these pension plans is equivalent to the annual contributions of $1,739 for the year ended March 31, 2011 (2010 – $1,545).

At December 31, 2010, the Management Employees Pension Plan reported a deficiency of $387,087 (2009 – deficiency of $483,199) and the Public Service Pension Plan reported a deficiency of $2,067,151 (2009 – deficiency of $1,729,196). At December 31, 2010, the Supplementary Retirement Plan for Public Service Managers had a deficiency of $39,559 (2009 – deficiency of $39,516).

The Office also participates in two multi-employer Long Term Disability Income Continuance Plans. At March 31, 2011, the Bargaining Unit Plan reported an actuarial deficiency of $4,141 (2010 – deficiency of $8,335) and the Management, Opted Out and Excluded Plan an actuarial surplus of $7,020 (2010 – surplus of $7,431). The expense for these two plans is limited to the employer's annual contributions for the year.

Commonwealth Parliamentary Association, Alberta Branch

Secretary's Report

Experience is the best teacher

There really is no clear-cut course on how to be an MLA. In fact, it is through experience that much of the parliamentary knowledge is gained. This is where interparliamentary opportunities can prove extremely valuable, especially for new MLAs navigating the learning curve. Parliamentary organizations such as the CPA, the Council of State Governments, the Assemblée parlementaire de la Francophonie, the Parliamentary Confederation of the Americas and the Partnership of Parliaments afford MLAs rare opportunities to compare notes with other elected officials from around the world and learn from others' successes and challenges. I can think of no better way for Alberta's MLAs to improve their understanding and expand their knowledge of all things parliamentary.

The Alberta Branch of the CPA participated in 10 such conferences in 2011. A few of the more notable include the Canadian Regional Presiding Officers' Conference in Iqaluit, Nunavut; the Canadian Regional Conference of the CPA in Charlottetown, Prince Edward Island; and the National Conference of State Legislatures in San Antonio, Texas. While the locales could not have been more different, one didn't have to look far to find commonality between all three conferences. Whether discussing energy matters, ethics or committee reform, the wealth of experience and breadth of knowledge are dwarfed only by the considerable range of perspectives. I find this often is the case with parliamentary relations simply because while the fine details of an issue may vary from region to region, at the provincial and state level many of the broad concerns dealt with by legislators are similar. The truly exciting part is comparing notes on the possible approaches to the issues at hand. These varying points of view are invaluable as they help legislators to see all sides of an issue.

As Secretary of the Alberta Branch of the CPA, I attended three interparliamentary activities in 2011. The experiences I had at the Canadian Regional Presiding Officers' Conference, the CPA Commonwealth Conference in London, England, and the State Legislative Leaders Foundation meeting in Barcelona, Spain, were as memorable for their professional exchange of information, ideas and best practices as they were for their locations and cultural programs.

Since becoming Clerk of the Legislative Assembly and Secretary of the Alberta Branch of the CPA in 1987, I have frequently been reminded through my own experiences and those of the Members that interparliamentary activities can sometimes be the most rewarding of all professional development activities.

Delegate's Report

Dave Rodney, MLA Calgary-Lougheed

The Annual Conference of the Canadian Council of Public Accounts Committees was held in Halifax from August 28 to 30, 2011, and I was honoured to attend as deputy chair of the Public Accounts Committee for the Legislative Assembly of Alberta.

Improving PAC Effectiveness — the U.K. Perspective featured the Rt. Hon. MP Margaret Hodge, chair of the Public Accounts Committee, House of Commons, United Kingdom. It was interesting to learn that the equivalent of our committee is the most respected committee of the Assembly and that it is extremely high profile with respect to media. Despite this (and partially because of this), their committee experience problems that we do not encounter here.

Changes to the Manitoba PAC utilized a panel from that province which is doing its best to catch up with a number of jurisdictions (including Alberta) regarding best practices.

GPI Atlantic is an independent, nonprofit research and education organization committed to the development of the genuine progress index (GPI), a new measure of sustainability, well-being and quality of life. The Kingdom of Bhutan utilizes this model. Whether this is a more effective measure that the western world adopts is yet to be discerned.

PAC-AG Collaboration was an interactive session based on CCAF attributes of an effective PAC, with voting technology to elicit participant views. There were no real surprises in the opinions and observations of elected representatives, Auditors General and staff.

Effective Questions in PAC Sessions was hosted in the Nova Scotia Legislative Chamber. It featured video clips and simulations which provoked discussions and generated strategies for effective questioning. Many delegates appreciated what I was able to share about the Alberta experience since we utilize a number of strategies that other jurisdictions simply have not yet contemplated.

Chairs/Vice-chairs Speak your Mind was a rather lively session, and although it has not been the practice of the current Alberta chair to attend this conference, I would highly suggest it for this session alone. In sharing the best practices in our province, it became clear that Alberta is the Public Accounts leader in Canada.
